If you thought you couldn't discharge sludge on the River Tees...

...then think again

Recyc-Oil Ltd can now collect your engine sludge and bilge by barge, as well as road tanker, you just need to ask.

Our barge, 'Erimus Star', operates from the Tees Barrage to Government Jetty at the river mouth, making it possible to discharge:

- Waste oil
  - Engine slops
  - Oil/diesel cargo washings
  - Bilge water
  - Sludge
- at all the jetties on the River Tees.

We also service the following Ports by road tanker

- Tees & Hartlepool
- Tyne & Wear
- Whitby
- Seaham
- Blyth

Discharging waste by barge couldn't be easier

It doesn't interfere with cargo operations or other tasks that can only be done across the jetty; and with its 55m<sup>3</sup> capacity, it meets the demands of most vessels in one collection.

Customised for the job

The barge is equipped to meet the needs of both the vessel and the jetty, with a 60m<sup>3</sup>/hr pump capability for speed of collection; bow thruster for manoeuvrability; moveable fenders to protect each vessel; 30 metre long, pressure and electrically tested hoses to reduce the risk of leaks; and of course an experienced crew with tried and tested operating instructions. We are also part of the river's emergency response team.

Professional and reliable

Recyc-Oil Ltd has over 25 years experience of removing waste oil from ships, servicing over 350 vessels and removing over 3.5million litres of waste a year without a single environmental incident. Our road tankers help provide the rapid response demanded by ships, providing a cost-effective solution for the regular waste removal requirement.

Traceable compliance

Every consignment of waste oil we collect is recorded, analysed and registered with the Environment Agency using a unique consignment number, which is referenced on our invoices, helping with your environmental traceability from waste through to invoice payments.

One call and the job is done on-time, in-full

With our waste oil barge and road tankers we offer total flexibility to ships discharging oily waste.
